

SMAA - WILD CLOVER FARM

JUST ANOTHER STUNNING DAY

17 SEPTEMBER

“LAST LEAGUE OF 2017 AND THE WPMAA AGM, WOW HOW THIS YEAR HAS FLOWN BY”

Nic from SMAA, Wild Clover had agreed on this extra Sunday due to the event being moved from HRF due to bad weather but this time the weather didn't disappoint.

In stunning conditions the flying was expected to be top gun performance by all pilots, but quite the opposite, the overall scores were lower than usual and everyone struggled with the flight line, or something!

Jack in Sportsman was improving nicely, high 50's to low 60's was enough to win three out of four rounds ahead of André who once again struggled with some Jacques Botha who won the final round to take second overall. Maybe someone stood on Cobus broken foot. Rory, despite his lack of competition this year put on consistent performance for third and ahead of Jacques Borman who flying his newly acquired DaJaVu and getting used to its performance.

The usual five Masters pilots but for the first time this year, without Neil who now has joined his son in the USA. The competition was very close, in fact nothing separated the top four on round one. Stuart and Ernie pulled away from Rodney and Gerhard on the second round, all to pull on all these skills. Ernie did improve but couldn't match Stuart last flight performance and back to his usual standard with a mid sixty score giving him the fourth round win and first place.

Thanks to Martin, Kas, Bernus and Ludwig for there time, to Nic from SMAA for the use of the field and Jacques Botha for setting the flight line.

The WPMAA AGM was organized at the Wild Clover brewery after the comp, the up coming WP champs and SA Masters was on the agenda among other items, minutes will be sent out in due course.

heart stopping moments and maybe we should all wear hard hats next time André, but having said that his scores were consistent and he went home with his plane in one piece. Well done.

Advanced class was once again as competitive as ever. Cobus the clear winner but close behind three ahead of Ozzie, who is trying!

Ernie was the clear winner of the third round, Ozzie just got lost! Rodney was also struggling just ahead of Gerhard. So it was down to the wire, with Stuart winning the first two rounds and Ernie the third both pilots had
